The producers wish to thank most sincerely all those who have helped, in so many ways, with this production — and especially those who have loaned properties and costumes.

Our particular thanks are due to Bernard Gale for lending us the stage drapes, and to The Symondsburry Players for making their lighting available to us.

We have very much appreciated the willing help of Murray Davis, who has undertaken (at short notice and in a busy time) the accompaniment of the musical items, and we thank him most sincerely.
